

CAINE OTH

BIOGRAPHY

South Central, Los Angeles native, Caine OTH comes from a history of music and performing arts. With family in the industry, Caine began playing drums at age 11 in church. As a boy, he was also chosen for the main role in a play, due to his incredible ability to speed read and memorize lines.

Caine's experience in theatre including extensive training and over 25 live performances and competitions; taught him how to win over a crowd- and judges. Bringing home a superior rating from the National Association of Dramatic Speech Arts (2003-2006), with prose piece titled "Nefarious Ned Massacre" he reveals his talents for story telling and performing.

Transitioning further into performing arts, music and writing, Caine began telling his own story through Hip-Hop and rap with sounds influenced by a myriad of genres, eras and experiences.

Additionally, with over 50 live music performances within Los Angeles at venues such as The House of Blues, Spaghetti Factory and USC, Caine OTH has a proven capability of bringing movement and emotion through entire buildings of people.

Taking the natural next step in his career, Caine is sharing his magnetic music and intoxicating persona with the world by releasing 4 music videos within in the first half of 2021. Garnering 60k views on YouTube and counting, Caine has no plans to slow down.

With a team of passionate individuals behind him, Caine OTH will soon release his full Mixtape album The Sloth.
